One of the best tennis players seen in Washington in recent years, C. H. Van Vliet, a member of the Racquet Club of the Suburban League, will be lost to that organisation for the remainder of the season and will probably cost the Racqueters the pennant in the Suburban League.

Overhead the youngster was invincible, while his ground strokes and court covering ability made him wellow in who was thought to have a chance to win the District title and the Columbia tournament even in the face of, the strictast opposition.

The Departmental Tennis League title goes to the War Department team by virtue of taking four out of five matches from Navy at the Columbia Country Club yesterday. Navy and War were tied for the championship, and in the play-off the War players rose to great heights. Navy was conceded another win in the title scrap, and the showing made by the War team was a distinct surprise.

All of the matches were harder fought than the scores indicate. Instead of the usual count on deuce sets the players were allowed to go to a conclusion. War
